FACES OF CSBS

Alumni Spotlight

Meet economics alum Nico Dato. Nico is the EVP of Marketing for Podium, the leading interaction management platform that enables companies with a local presence to conveniently connect at critical touchpoints and help them strengthen their business. Dato grew up in Bountiful, Utah and attended the University of Utah, where he graduated in 2013 with a degree in economics. Prior to Podium, Dato helped run demand generation at Teleperformance and then managed Zane Benefits' marketing team. READ MORE

Student Spotlight

Meet Colby Child! He's a geography major and CSBS Solutions Scholar.

Colby grew up in a small neighborhood in Northern Michigan where natural places were his playground. He moved to Utah when he was 11 years old. He attended charter schools all the way through high school. Often feeling stuck in a land of asphalt and concrete, He values the time he gets to spend outside of the city. He believes the community needs more people with the necessary skills and wisdom to implement creative solutions to our most difficult problems. READ MORE

The delicate art—and evolving science—of wildfire evacuations

Since the late 1990s, more deadly wildfires have swept the western US, due in part to climate change, forest management practices and to development along the wildland-urban interface—meaning more people live in fire-prone places.
