Caring for the Family Caregiver: Moving Our Policy, Practice, Training and Education}

The homeowners association that governs the planned community of Daybreak apologized after residents received notices to remove their Black Lives Matter yard signs.

The California wildfires growing bigger, moving faster than ever are an example of the state's five year drought.

Many of our September & October events are happening remotely. We invite you to attend. Our Geography Colloquium: Dr. Timbo Stillinger, UCSB on WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 2020, 12 – 1PM | Virtual Meeting. Stay connected with us!

Managing the dust on a variety of environmental and health issues.

AWARDS & KUDOS

The University of Utah School of Economic professor Eunice Han found that students see the greatest results when more teachers are members of their political party.

In celebration of the College of Social and Behavioral Science’s 50th anniversary, we are sharing stories about our community and how the College has influenced their personal and professional story.

Inspiring Solutions

Ally Marringa was selected as a recipient of a 2020 Academics and Research Beyond the Patient Student Affairs District Staff Excellence Award! Ally will be recognized at an event in the spring. Congratulations, Ally!

Student Spotlight

Matt Horn is a pre-med student double majoring in Health, Society, and Policy and Family, Community, and Human Development. He is one of the 2020-2021 Solution Scholars. In his bio, Matt stated: “I have a passion to help people, and I want to question and find possible solutions to many societal problems through a research opportunity.”

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 2020, 9 – 11:30AM | Zoom Meeting

To view our news archive, click here.

Copyright © 2019 The University of Utah College of Social and Behavioral Science, All rights reserved.