ASSISTING UTAH RESEARCHERS

in the Humanities, Social Sciences, & Arts

MISSION

FundFinder is a monthly newsletter for researchers working across a wide number of intellectual areas, including the Humanities, Social Sciences, and the Arts. The goal is to provide a forum for communicating activities and opportunities related to funding in these areas such as writing retreats, workshops, and fellowship/grant calls.

The newsletter is put out by the Office of Research Administration housed in three colleges (Humanities, Social and Behavioral Sciences, and the School for Cultural and Social Transformation) at the University of Utah.

If you have content for the newsletter, then send it to Christine Gore (christine.gore@utah.edu).

Funder Spotlight

The National Endowment for the Humanities' (NEH) Summer Stipends program aims to stimulate new research in the humanities and its publication. The program works to accomplish this goal by:

- Providing small awards to individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both
- Supporting projects at any stage of development, but especially early-stage research and late-stage writing in which small awards are most effective

Summer Stipends support continuous full-time work on a humanities project for a period of two consecutive months. NEH funds may support recipients' compensation, travel, and other costs related to the proposed scholarly research.

WILLIAM T. GRANT FOUNDATION

SUPPORTING RESEARCH TO IMPROVE THE LIVES OF YOUNG PEOPLE

Headquartered in New York City, the William T. Grant Foundation invests in high-quality research focused on reducing inequality in youth outcomes and improving the use of research evidence in decisions that affect young people in the United States.

Core programs include a Scholars Program and two grants focused on their core mission.

The Scholars Program supports career development for promising early-career researchers. The program funds five-year research and mentoring plans that significantly expand researchers' expertise in new disciplines, methods, and content areas.

Reducing Inequality

The foundation seeks studies that aim to build, test, or increase understanding of programs, policies, or practices to reduce inequality in the academic, social, behavioral, or economic outcomes of young people. We prioritize studies about reducing inequality on the basis of race, ethnicity, economic standing, language minority status, or immigrant origins.

Using Evidence

The foundation seeks studies that identify, build, and test strategies to enhance the use of research evidence in ways that benefit youth. We are particularly interested in research on improving the use of research evidence by state and local decision makers, mid-level managers, and intermediaries.

SUMMER WRITING RETREAT

WHAT DO FACULTY DO AT A SUMMER WRITING RETREAT?

The Summer Writing Retreat is a free resource for all faculty at the University of Utah. It provides you with a set time to focus on your writing. Many of the faculty who attend the retreat are focused on writing fellowship and/or grant applications, but the retreat also supports scholars developing larger projects (e.g., book proposals).

The retreat focuses primarily on developing, revising, and receiving feedback on your writing. That is, the bulk of our time will be spent writing and receiving feedback on that writing. It is designed for both those who have no experience crafting grants/fellowships and seasoned grant/fellowship recipients looking for time to work with access to feedback.

BASIC DETAILS

WHO: all University of Utah Faculty

WHAT: A 2-day writing retreat focused on grants, fellowships, or big projects

WHERE: Nexus space in the Carolyn & Kem Gardner Commons Building

WHEN: June 23 & 24 from 9am-5pm

HOW MUCH: Free, but you must RSVP to Austin.westley@csbs.utah.edu

Provide Austin with your name, department, and what you plan to work on (e.g., developing NSF grant, writing an NEH fellowship, outlining chapters of a book).

OFFICE OF RESEARCH ADMINISTRATION

Assisting with pre- and post-award

The Office of Research Administration (ORA) is a service available to faculty and graduate students to assist with pre- and post-award as well as application submission. The ORA is the first point of contact for faculty research projects whether the prospective funding sources are federal, state, local, or private organizations. You can read more about our services on our website.

ORA is located in the Carolyn and Kem Gardner Building, Suite #3725.

Cindy Brown

Cindy has been with the University of Utah for 26 years helping to support faculty and graduate students pursue funding. She manages ORA for all three colleges. In her free time she enjoys taking nature walks, spending time with family, and street photography.
